

Jeff Ramsey

Executive Vice President

Jeff Ramsey serves as executive vice president for Koch and sits on its board of directors. He oversees multiple Koch companies and capabilities, including Flint Hills Resources, Guardian Industries, INVISTA, Koch Engineered Solutions, and Environmental, Health and Safety.

Jeff originally joined Koch Oil Company in 1990 and previously served as president, chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Flint Hills Resources, a leading refining company with operations primarily in the Midwest and Texas.

Jeff serves as a member of the Friends University board of trustees, the same university where he earned a bachelor's degree in accounting and business administration. Additionally, he recently served as chair of the executive committee for the American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers Association.

Koch is based in Wichita, Kansas, and is one of the largest private companies in America, with annual revenues that have exceeded $125 billion. It owns a diverse group of companies involved in manufacturing, agriculture, pulp and paper, packaging, consumer products, building materials, glass, automotive components, refining, renewable energy, chemicals and polymers, electronics, software, network solutions, health care technology, engineered technology, project services, recycling, supply chain and logistics, commodities trading, real estate and investments. Since 2003, Koch companies have invested more than $168 billion in growth and improvements. With a presence in more than 50 countries, Koch companies employ about 120,000 people worldwide, with nearly half of those in the United States.