

Sheryl Corrigan

Vice President, Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS)

Sheryl Corrigan is vice president of Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS) at Koch. In this role, Sheryl has responsibility for helping Koch employees apply stewardship and compliance in their work and in their communities. Additionally, she helps Koch companies continuously improve the capabilities and systems that support these efforts. She serves on the board of directors for Flint Hills Resources, Georgia-Pacific, INVISTA and Guardian.

Since joining Koch in 2006, Sheryl has served in several EHS and compliance roles in various Koch companies, and currently supports our Aviation, Audit and Assurance, Compliance and Ethics, and Executive Protection capability groups, along with Stewardship and EHS.

Before joining Koch, Sheryl was commissioner of the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, advising the governor and helping set the strategic direction for the state on environmental matters.

Sheryl earned a bachelor's degree in geology from the University of Minnesota Institute of Technology.

Koch is based in Wichita, Kansas, and is one of the largest private companies in America, with annual revenues that have exceeded $125 billion. It owns a diverse group of companies involved in manufacturing, agriculture, pulp and paper, packaging, consumer products, building materials, glass, automotive components, refining, renewable energy, chemicals and polymers, electronics, software, network solutions, health care technology, engineered technology, project services, recycling, supply chain and logistics, commodities trading, real estate and investments. Since 2003, Koch companies have invested more than $168 billion in growth and improvements. With a presence in more than 50 countries, Koch companies employ about 120,000 people worldwide, with nearly half of those in the United States.